

Open for Business in a Whole New Way

March 25, 2020

To Our Clients and Colleagues,

First, we want to express our best wishes for everyone's good health as we navigate through this altered environment we are all living and working in.

At Fletcher Tilton, we are open for business thanks to our technological capacity to work remotely from any location. As a result, we remain available to meet your legal needs in a safe and suitable fashion. Our attorneys and staff are equipped with remote access capability to all systems and applications as if they were physically in one of the firm's offices. Naturally, there may be some inconvenience as we transition to this new operating way of doing business. However, we are confident these inconveniences will be minor as our staff and our clients adjust. So, don't hesitate to contact us during this time by phone or email. We're open for business.

We are committed to working through this challenging time with all of you. We are confident that we will come through this experience stronger and more aligned than ever with our clients and colleagues.

Best Regards,

Fred Misilo
