Continuity of Service During COVID-19 Situation

March 16, 2020

To Our Valued Clients and Business Colleagues,

Given the public health concern presented by the COVID-19 virus, Fletcher Tilton wants to share with you the preparations that we have proactively undertaken to ensure that we are staying vigilantly informed and well-prepared to adjust to ongoing developments. We have a Business Continuity Plan to ensure we are able to efficiently conduct business in the face of the challenges this public health concern has generated. We endeavor to provide our clients thoughtful, timely and focused advice and the highest level of administrative support and service - no matter the circumstances. We also take extremely seriously our responsibility to provide our clients and our colleagues with a safe, healthy and secure working environment.

Our systems and processes are designed to allow employees to efficiently work outside the office, if necessary, and to continue to perform their jobs in a responsible and efficient manner. We have confidence in our systems and contingency plans. Although we hope that we do not have to initiate our Business Continuity Plan, we are confident that we will be able to continue business as usual and to serve our clients should circumstances merit implementation of the Plan.

Ongoing information will continue to be released about COVID-19 and its impact on the well-being of our clients and colleagues, our community, and on the global economy. We will continue to monitor this rapidly evolving situation and assure you that we will take whatever steps are necessary as a firm and will do so with full priority to safe, continuous, and efficient service.

Please reach out to us with any questions or concerns.

Frederick M. Misilo, Jr., Esq., President, and the Fletcher Tilton Team