Solutions for Contemporary Challenges

With roots dating back over 190 years, our firm is the ninth oldest in the nation. Two centuries later, Fletcher Tilton remains one of the region's premier law firms as we continue to meet the needs and challenges that face our clients.

With an environment of constant change, it requires the services of a legal partner who can work collaboratively with clients and draw on in-depth knowledge across many industries.

We have organized our firm around core practice areas:

- Business & Corporate
- Commercial Lending
- Immigration
- Litigation
- Real Estate
- Taxation
- Trust & Estate, Special Needs and Elder Law

In each of these areas, we have expanded our expertise into unique, more extensive, subspecialties. The strength and breadth of our team positions us well to apply our collective proficiency to the unique circumstances of a variety of matters.

Today our firm is more than 100 strong with nearly 50 attorneys, a large cadre of paralegals, and support staff providing legal solutions in over 35 specialized areas of practice at three convenient locations.

Expertise to Equip Our Clients

At Fletcher Tilton, we believe strongly in educating our clients so they are equipped to protect themselves, their assets and their businesses. Our attorneys author many articles and offer frequent seminars on important topics such as recent tax changes, employment law issues, developments in bankruptcy law, and special needs planning, just to name a few. To keep our clients up-to-date with new developments in the law, we publish three newsletters: one on business and general topics, one on special needs planning, and one on immigration issues.

We have a unique expertise in the area of sophisticated estate planning, estate administration and charitable trust administration. Attorneys within our firm's trust and estate department manage trusts with a total value of nearly half a billion dollars. To accommodate the large volume of individual, business and fiduciary returns that we prepare, we employ a staff of four tax preparers. In addition, six of our attorneys are either CPAs or hold advanced degrees in taxation.

Our attorneys at Fletcher Tilton have an average of 20 years of experience in their area of specialty. We pride ourselves on providing forward-thinking, responsive solutions for clients of every size, from individuals and entrepreneurs to small businesses and large corporations.

RELATIONSHIPS & COMMUNITY BUILDING

We understand that to provide you with the best possible advice, we need to understand you and the challenges you face. That is why relationship building is paramount at Fletcher Tilton. Guided by three basic principles — integrity, leadership and excellence — Fletcher Tilton strives to maintain a relationship of trust, confidence and service with every client.

Beyond relationship building, we also believe strongly in community building, not only because we live and work here, but also because our clients live and do business here. Our attorneys give heavily of their time and talents and are uniquely positioned within the community serving as members and leaders of many civic and charitable organizations.

From our 19th century roots to the current day, Fletcher Tilton remains a legal institution with a proud history that carries forward the values of its founders to find solutions for today's contemporary challenges.
